

Dra. Leonor Nozal Martínez. Head of the Bioanalysis and Quality Control Unit. She has a doctorate in Chemical Sciences, specialized in Analytical Chemistry, from the University of Córdoba. During 2006, she worked in quality control at the multinational company KME-LOCSA in Córdoba. She continued her career as a researcher and, in 2007, she joined the CQAB. Her main line of research is the development and management of projects related to bioanalytical determinations, the biomedical, pharmaceutical, food and environmental sectors, as well as the validation of analysis methods based on Chromatography coupled to Mass Spectrometry. She has participated in more than 60 R&D projects financed by public entities and private companies article 83 LOU. He is the author of more than 30 scientific publications in the most impactful journals and more than 40 presentations at national and international conferences. Since 2010 she is a member of 2 AENOR committees. Since 2013, she has collaborated as a quality management advisor and associate researcher at the IMDEA-AGUA Laboratories. She is a teacher in the Master of Chromatography and training courses given at the CQAB. She has co-directed more than 10 Final Master's (TFM) and Bachelor's degree projects